Scripts

Jack Pelham wrote Telephone, LÖBRADUX, Coyote (lyrics), the Willie's skits, Pigeons, and most of the Lightning Round. The Whiskey Speech (1952) is by Noah S. "Soggy" Sweat, Jr. Bookstore was written by John Cleese (of Monty Python fame). The football speeches in the Lightning Round are the words of FSU football coach, Bill Peterson. Pore Jud is Daid is from the great American musical, OKLAHOMA!, by Rodgers and Hammerstein. Many of our original scripts evolved with brilliant feedback from the cast during rehearsal, which certainly bears mentioning. And so does the constant help of James and Kay Pelham, who, by virtue of living with the Director, have become the constant sounding board for script ideas.

What's Next?

This show closes our Spring semester, and we look ahead to the Fall auditions on Saturday, August 7, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. It's a super-fun audition morning where we'll hear your prepared monologues, work some skits together, and give everyone a thorough idea of what our Skits Workshop is like. Our Fall Semester starts on Monday, September 13. Class meets Mondays from 2-5pm. Please contact jackpelham@wemontana.org to sign up for the audition day.
